We are looking for volunteers!

Rather than start our own program, we will support programs already underway in Palm Springs and the surrounding area —SMART, the Ophelia Project, Bright Futures and others—by locating experienced professionals who can inspire and direct high schoolers and other young adults, and connecting these potential mentors with programs where they can be most effective.

Not just teachers or former teachers, but professionals from all fields—military as well as civilian, arts as well as science—who can offer young people the benefit of their experience and their caring concern. Please let us know if you're interested!
